

Rules for Camp

These rules will make camp a great experience for everyone.
Parents, please review and agree to these rules with your teen prior to camp.

Things to do

- Come with an open heart and willingness to build a mindset of: “Can Do, Want To, Will Do”
- Respect others and honor their journey. Treat others with kindness and consideration.
 - There is zero tolerance for bullying, harassment, or discrimination of any kind.
- Support your team:
 - Actively participate in team activities and challenges even if it isn’t your thing.
 - There will be a rotation of chores within your team facilitated by your Leader. These chores are not optional and are a part of team building and leadership.
- Be responsible:
 - Be on time and be mentally present for all scheduled team and camp activities
 - Dress: Always wear shoes and shirts unless swimming or sailing.
 - Eat responsibly: Take enough food and snacks, but don’t waste food.
 - Stay hydrated! Drink a full water bottle before the day’s activities begin. Keep water with you.
 - Maintain good personal hygiene by showering regularly and using appropriate toiletries
 - Wipe the bathroom counter down after each use.
 - Respect the 10pm quiet time, 10:30pm light out curfew and sleep. Allow others their sleep.
 - Recycle whenever possible. Practice Leave No Trace Ethics: Keep your personal garbage (food wrappers, etc.) in a plastic bag in your pack or put it immediately into the recycling bins.
 - Inspect your tent/campsite for trash or spilled food. Clean up any trash, food, and litter.
 - Respect Nature: Do not feed, capture, or disturb the animals or intentionally damage plant life.
 - Absolutely nothing goes down the toilets except toilet paper and human waste!!!
 - Report issues: Notify camp staff promptly if you encounter any problems, conflicts, or concerns during your time at camp.

Things not to do

- Do not leave the designated camp boundaries except in the event of a supervised emergency.
 - Your Leaders should be able to always locate you within camp boundaries.
- Do not be in a tent with a member of the opposite gender.
- Do not leave your tent after curfew unless you are sick or need the restroom.
 - Please report to your group leader whenever you leave and return.
- Do not show any romantic affection to other students in public or private.
 - Brief hugs are okay but snuggling, kissing, holding hands, and massages are not okay.
- Do not bring or possess illegal drugs, alcohol, tobacco, fireworks, firearms, weapons, or lighters.
- Do not do anything to harm yourself or others.
- Do not attempt to wade into or swim in the fast-running stream in camp. Use the bridges.
- Do not damage your tent or other parts of the camp facility.

Consequences:

Know that we have a zero-strikes policy. Participants who violate these rules will leave the activity or event and may have to find immediate transportation home.

By signing you agree to abide by these camp rules.
